NEWSMEN TOUR NEW PHILA. PLANT

Inspect Giant Power Generating Plant of Phila.
Electric Co.

GUESTS AT A DINNER

Viewing charts and graphs and listening to commentators explain the intricacies of electricity and then seeing in actual operation huge steam generators, boilers and other equipment used in generating electrical power, approximately 70 newspapermen from the Philadelphia area toured the Southwark station of the Philadelphia Electric Company on Saturday. It is located on the Delaware river at Delaware and Oregon avenues, Philadelphia, and its product is used for heat, light and power in Bucks and other counties in the Philadelphia area.

The Southwark Station is Philadelphia Electric Company's newest addition to its generating system. It cost $45,000,000. Already draftsmen and engineers are putting on paper an addition of equal size, so as to be prepared to keep pace with the demand, because electrical energy cannot be stored—it is made and immediately consumed.

There were visits to the electrical control room, turbine hall, boiler control center, Delaware river front, coal pulverizer floor, delivery facilities area and transformer yard called the "shipping department." A dinner was served at the conclusion of the tour. Dividing the guests into groups of seven and assigning a host to each the newspapermen spent over an hour visiting the various departments of the plant; were impressed with its immensity, and its robot characteristics; but it was difficult to fathom how such a giant is operated with such ease by the corps of expert operators.

Located on the Delaware river, Southwark's presently - installed two generating units have an aggregate capacity of 338,000 kilowatts, enough to supply the electric needs of 1,000,000 homes. The plant is designed to permit the use of either coal or oil to develop steam to drive the generators. Using coal only, 3,700 tons are consumed daily to produce a required 3,600,000 pounds of steam an hour, or 86,000,000 pounds a day.

Southwark is the company's fifth major steam generating station to be located on the Delaware river, where access to water in unlimited supply, and to coal, by both rail and barge, are important considerations.

REV. JOS. DIAMOND IS PROCESSION SPEAKER

42 First Holy Communicants Among Participants At Church in Crofton

OF INTEREST TO MANY

CROFTON, May 17—In spite of gray sky and pouring rain, the annual May procession was held yesterday afternoon in St. Thomas Aquinas R. C. Church at 2:30 o'clock.

Upon entering the church, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" was sung by children of St. Thomas school. The 42 first holy communicants were first, 23 boys and 19 girls, attired in white dresses and veils, and white suits. They had received their first communion at eight o'clock mass.

Following were children of the lower grades, the girls wearing sprays of pink roses in their hair. Then came girls and boys of middle grades, the boys carrying American flags. The six boy graduates followed, attired in white trousers and navy coats. Each wore a white rose boutonniere. Each was attended by two small pages, who wore white suits and carried small bouquets of red roses.

Following were eight girl graduates attired in blue tulle gowns, made with net overskirts, off-shoulder neckline of net outlined in small net ruffles, and tied with large bows in back. They wore long blue lace mitts and carried pink rosebud nosegays. On their heads they wore ruffled blue net with shoulder-length veils held in place with pink rosebuds. Their attendants, two in number, wore Kate Greenaway dresses of pink tulle. They carried small nosegays of yellow daisies.

The May Queen, Louise Lawler, wore a white satin robe tied with a girdle, a long blue satin cape with queen's collar. A long white veil of illusion with a seed pearl head-dress completed her costume. She carried a white satin pillow on which rested the crown of pink rosebuds. Miss Lawler was attended by five small girls, one a maid of honor, and two acting as train-bearers. All carried nosegays of daisies and rosebuds.

The altar boys were followed by the Rev. Joseph Diamond, rector; and Rev. Joseph Rodgers, assistant. As the girl graduates and the Queen filed down the center aisle of the church for the recitation to the Blessed Mother, they filed through an arch of flags made by the boys. "Mary, Dearest Mother" was sung by children of the school. Following the crowning they laid nosegays at the foot of the altar.

The boy graduates proceeded to the altar where they recited the dedication to the Sacred Heart in unison, and Joseph Schade made the presentation. The small boys laid their bouquets at the foot of the altar.

NEWSMEN TOUR NEW PHILA. PLANT

Inspect Giant Power Generating Plant of Phila. Electric Co.

GUESTS AT A DINNER

Viewing charts and graphs and listening to commentators explain the intricacies of electricity and then seeing in actual operation huge steam generators, boilers and other equipment used in generating electrical power, approximately 70 newspapermen from the Philadelphia area toured the Southwark station of the Philadelphia Electric Company on Saturday. It is located on the Delaware river at Delaware and Oregon avenues, Philadelphia, and its product is used for heat, light and power in Bucks and other counties in the Philadelphia area.

The Southwark Station is Philadelphia Electric Company's newest addition to its generating system. It cost $45,000,000. Already drafts-men and engineers are putting on paper an addition of equal size, so as to be prepared to keep pace with the demand, because electrical energy cannot be stored—it is made and immediately consumed.

There were visits to the electrical control room, turbine hall, heater bay, boiler control center, Delaware river front, coal pulverizer floor, delivery facilities area and transformer yard called the "shipping department." A dinner was served at the conclusion of the tour.

Dividing the guests into groups of seven and assigning a host to each the newspapermen spent over an hour visiting the various departments of the plant; were impressed with its immaculateness, and its robot characteristics; but it was difficult to fathom how such a giant is operated with such ease by the corps of expert operators.

Located on the Delaware river, Southwark's presently - installed two generating units have an aggregate capacity of 335,000 kilowatts, enough to supply the electric needs of 1,000,000 homes. The plant is designed to permit the use of either coal or oil to develop steam to drive the generators. Using coal only, 3,700 tons are consumed daily to produce a required 3,600,000 pounds of steam an hour, or 38,000,000 pounds a day.

Southwark is the company's fifth major steam generating station to be located on the Delaware river, where access to water in unlimited supply, and to coal, by both rail and barge, are important considerations.

C-47 NOW EQUALS R-4D

At many an airfield in the United States and throughout the world the operations facilities of the Army Transport Command (ATC) and the Naval Air Transport Service (NATS) worked side by side. The service they performed—carrying passengers, mail and cargo—was magnificent. But it was virtually identical.

The Army stuck to its system of designating types of planes, and the Navy did likewise. In the Army Air Force a Douglas two-motor transport was a C-47—whereas the same kind of plane in the Navy was an R-4D. The two craft performed the same functions with the same kind of crews, supported on the ground by the same kind of repairmen, communications, weather stations and so on.

Usually the teamwork between the services was friendly and efficient. Yet there was some duplication of personnel and facilities. There simply could not be the efficiency that can come only from established unity of command.

That unity has now been effected. As of June 1, ATC and NATS will become MATS—the Military Air Transport Service, under Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff. The four top officers of his transport staff will be three major generals and a rear admiral. Both Air Force and Navy personnel will wear their own kind of uniforms and be completely interchangeable in duties.

The pilot of a plane may be an ensign and his flight engineer an Air Force sergeant. But they will understand one another as never before.

This is the first practical working unification so far achieved by the services under the act of Congress.

THE FIREMEN'S STAMP

Representative Boggs' bill to issue a postage stamp honoring volunteer firemen has passed the House and will likely soon pass the Senate. But whether the President will sign it is doubtful. He will no doubt take the stand that too many commemorative stamps have been issued in recent years. It is difficult to see what other objection he could raise.

Congress some years ago gave the Postmaster General the say-so as to what stamps should be issued. The results were not entirely satisfactory. As a result Congress has again resumed telling him what stamps to print. For a number of years so many special stamps were issued that none of them meant very much to the public.

But there are stamps with merely local significance, and those of broad appeal. Congressman Boggs' fireman stamp would honor the unpaid, heroic work of volunteers everywhere. If there is real danger the President may not sign it, perhaps a delegation from Congress could call on the Postmaster General and give him an opportunity to save face by approving the bill.

Or, of course, Congress can pass it over a Truman veto.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Mar. 24, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

J. R. Davis is building a substantial bay house, 26x12 feet, on the slatback farm on the Oxford road, just west of the canal.

The steamboat "Columbia", on Sunday afternoon took 1666 passengers over 600 of whom were from Bristol, on the excursion down the river to view the battle ships at League Island.

At the annual meeting of the Methodist conference, which adjourned at Chester yesterday after a very interesting session, the following pastors in this locality were assigned: Rev. Charles H. Rorer was returned to Bristol; Rev. F. A. Warden, returned to Cornwells and Bensalem; Rev. W. Gray Jones, of Tullytown, was assigned at Narberth; and Rev. Francis Hawkes appointed at Morrisville.

Rev. E. W. Hart appointed, and Rev. Robert Heatherington transferred. Rev. Samuel Johnson, of Neshaunig church at Hulmeville, was returned.

Firman Young, of Bristol, is the happy possessor of the oldest cat in the state of Pennsylvania. Twenty years ago the first of last month a little malfest kitten was born at his residence on Bath street. The kitten is now a cat but retains its kittenish ways.

HULMEVILLE — Dr. E. S. Huntsman is constructing a new telephone line between Hulmeville and Newportville.

The excursion last Sunday down the river, was enjoyed by a number of our prominent citizens, among whom were Mr. John Johnson, Councilman Elisha Prael, Mr. Thomas Goheen, Mr. Harry Johnson, Councilman A. L. Shaw, Councilman Harry Magill and Mrs. Magill, High Constable William Noon, Mr. Bertice Douglass, Mr. Harrison Douglass, Mr. Hermann Coar, Mr. "Bun" Reetz, Mr. "Duke" Prael, Mr. Frank Soby, Mr. Levi Roberts, Misses Bezzie Magill, Tillie Gill and Ella Black.

The re-organization of the Bristol board of trade, which has been suffered to suspend operations during the hard times of the past few years, has been asked for lately by a number of Bristol's prominent business men.

John H. Larue has purchased the William and Sarah Booz farm in Bristol township, containing 85 acres and 119 perches.

The Home Telephone Co. of Trenton, contemplates putting a telephone exchange in Bristol at a lower rate than that charged subscribers of the Bell Telephone Company.

The Floral Exchange of Philadelphia is erecting three large additional greenhouses at their nurseries at Edgely.

Capt. and R. W. Sutcliffe and wife from Chester, Pa., have been sent to take charge of the Bristol branch of the Salvation army.

FALLSINGTON — Some of our sportsmen reports that snipe and wild ducks have arrived. Woodcock are also reported as having arrived.

EMILIE — Mr. Joseph Lovett, our enthusiastic trolley man, says the line will be through the village this summer without fail.

less than one-tenth the railroad employees, refused to arbitrate and rejected the finding of the President's Fact Finding Board. This made a mockery of the Railroad Labor Act which had worked perfectly for 29 years. But it was in accord with the pattern set by Mr. Roosevelt in 1911, when the unions refused to accept its verdict. He recalled his own Emergency Board and through White House pressure compelled it to make further concessions to the men. This effectively scuttled the act and the scuttling was repeated by Mr. Roosevelt in 1943. It having been demonstrated that more could be gained by disregarding the law than in any other way, the union bosses naturally have taken that way since.

FOR a handful of men thus to prove themselves stronger than the Government and above the law is a humiliating and degrading spectacle. It must ill every understanding American citizen with resentment and shame. Yet, the individual citizen is as helpless as the Government. The effects of a general railroad strike would be so awful that there seems no choice but capitulation. Literally, the nation could be paralyzed. The food supply of the great cities would be cut off. Complete industrial and economic prostration would ensue. Chase would occur in a week. This is what faced Mr. Truman last week when he took over the reins. For the time being he has averted the strike, but the union bosses still have the weapon by which they can frighten the Government into the action they want and hold the nation at their mercy.

SUPPOSE now Mr. Truman having twice undergone this shameful experience, should go to Congress and to the people, in effect, saying: "This is an intolerable situation. I am a friend of organized labor but neither organized labor nor any other group should have the power to strangle this nation and coerce its Government. These bosses have that power and at frequent intervals threaten to use it. Its mere possession menaces the economic welfare of the country."

C-47 NOW EQUALS R-4D

At many an airfield in the United States and throughout the world the operations facilities of the Army Transport Command (ATC) and the Naval Air Transport Service (NATS) worked side by side. The service they performed—carrying passengers, mail and cargo—was magnificent.
But it was virtually identical.

The Army stuck to its system of designating types of planes, and the Navy did likewise. In the Army Air Force a Douglas four-motor transport was a C-47—whereas the same kind of plane in the Navy was an R-4D. The two craft performed the same functions with the same kind of crews, supported on the ground by the same kind of repairmen, communications, weather stations and so on.

Usually the teamwork between the services was friendly and efficient. Yet there was some duplication of personnel and facilities.
There simply could not be the efficiency that can come only from established unity of command.

That unity has now been effected. As of June 1, ATC and NATS will become MATS—the Military Air Transport Service, under Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff. The four top officers of his transport staff will be three major generals and a rear admiral. Both Air Force and Navy personnel will wear their own kind of uniforms and be completely interchangeable in duties.

The pilot of a plane may be an ensign and his flight engineer an Air Force sergeant. But they will understand one another as never before.

This is the first practical, working unification so far achieved by the services under the act of Congress.

THE FIREMEN'S STAMP

Representative Boggs' bill to issue a postage stamp honoring volunteer firemen has passed the House and will likely soon pass the Senate. But whether the President will sign it is doubtful.
He will no doubt take the stand that too many commemorative stamps have been issued in recent years. It is difficult to see what other objection he could raise.

Congress some years ago gave the Postmaster General the say-so as to what stamps should be issued. The results were not entirely satisfactory. As a result Congress has again resumed telling him what stamps to print. For a number of years so many special stamps were issued that none of them meant very much to the public.

But there are stamps with merely local significance, and those of broad appeal. Congressman Boggs' fireman stamp would honor the unpaid, heroic work of volunteers everywhere. If there is real danger the President may not sign it, perhaps a delegation from Congress could call on the Postmaster General and give him an opportunity to save face by approving the bill.

Or, of course, Congress can pass it over a Truman veto.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Mar. 24, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

J. R. Davis is building a substantial bay house, 26x42 feet, on the Matlack farm on the Oxford road, just west of the canal.

The steamboat "Columbia", on Sunday afternoon took 1666 passengers, over 600 of whom were from Bristol, on the excursion down the river to view the battle ships at League Island.

At the annual meeting of the Methodist conference, which adjoined at Chester yesterday after a very interesting session, the following pastors in this locality were assigned: Rev. Charles H. Rorer was returned to Bristol; Rev. F.
A. Warden, returned to Cornwells and Bensalem; Rev. W. Gray Jones, of Tullytown, was assigned at Narberth; and Rev. Francis Hawkes appointed at Morrisville.

Rev. E. W. Hart appointed, and Rev. Robert Heatherington transferred. Rev. Samuel Johnson, of Neshaminy church at Hulmeville, was returned.

Firman Young, of Bristol, is the happy possessor of the oldest cat in the state of Pennsylvania. Twenty years ago the first of last month a little maltese kitten was born at his residence on Bath street. The kitten is now a cat but retains its kittenish ways.

HULMEVILLE—Dr. E. S. Huntsman is constructing a new telephone line between Hulmeville and Newportville.

The excursion last Sunday down the river, was enjoyed by a number of our prominent citizens, among whom were Mr. John Johnson, Councilman Elisha Paul, Mr.
Thomas Goheen, Mr. Harry Johnson, Councilman A. L. Shaw, Councilman Harry Magill and Mrs. Magill, High Constable William Noon, Mr. Bertice Douglass, Mr. Harrison

Douglass, Mr. Hermann Coar, Mr. "Bun" Reetz, Mr. "Duke" Paul,
Mr. Frank Soby, Mr. Levi Roberts, Misses Bezie Magill, Tillie Gill and Ella Black.

The re-organization of the Bristol board of trade, which has been suffered to suspend operations during the hard times of the past few years, has been asked for lately by a number of Bristol's prominent business men.

John H. Larue has purchased the William and Sarah Booz farm in Bristol township, containing 85 acres and 119 perches.

The Home Telephone Co. of Trenton, contemplates putting a telephone exchange in Bristol at a lower rate than that charged subscribers of the Bell Telephone Company.

The Floral Exchange of Philadelphia is erecting three large additional greenhouses at their nurseries at Edgely.

Capt. and R. W. Sutcliffe and wife from Chester, Pa., have been sent to take charge of the Bristol branch of the Salvation army.

FALLSINGTON—Some of our sportsmen reports that snipe and wild ducks have arrived. Woodcock are also reported as having arrived.

EMILIE—Mr. Joseph Lovett, our enthusiastic trolley man, says the line will be through the village this summer without fail.

match. There are several conceivable ways by which his popularity could be increased and his prestige regained in the five months before November. For one thing, this business of kicking Mr. Truman around may be overdone. The most potent force in politics is sympathy. Once let the people get the notion that Mr. Truman is the underdog, unjustly beaten and stoned by men, themselves of little merit and with obviously selfish purposes to serve —once let them begin to say, "Hold on, he isn't as bad as all that," or "Wait a minute, that ain't right!" —once let them begin to feel and talk like that and despite his in-adequacies, Mr. Truman might be elected. It is a possibility it does not do altogether to dismiss. A good many years ago, a mayor of Baltimore, with the odds heavily against him, was elected largely because his opponents overplayed his conceded dumbness.

AND there are ways by which Mr.
Truman himself may greatly improve his position. Right now, for example, there seems an opportunity in the recently threatened railroad strike which compelled him to seize the railroads to avert a great national calamity. In this controversy, union bosses representing less than one-tenth the railroad employees, refused to arbitrate and rejected the finding of the President's Fact Finding Board. This made a mockery of the Railroad Labor Act which had worked perfectly for 20 years. But it was in accord with the pattern set by Mr. Roosevelt in 1914, when the unions refusing to accept its verdict, he recalled his own Emergency Board and through White House pressure compelled it to make further concessions to the men. This effectively scuttled the act, and the scuttling was repeated by Mr. Roosevelt in 1943. It having been demonstrated that more could be gained by disregarding the law

than in any other way, the union bosses naturally have taken that way since.

FOIT a handful of men thus to prove themselves stronger than the Government and above the law is a humiliating and degrading spectacle. It must fill every understanding American citizen with resentment and shame. Yet, the individual citizen is as helpless as the Government. The effect of a general railroad strike would be so awful that there seems no choice but capitulation. Literally, the nation could be paralyzed. The food supply of the great cities would be cut off. Complete industrial and economic prostration would ensue.
Chaos would occur in a week. This is what faced Mr. Truman last week when he took over the roads.
For the time being he has averted
the strike but the union bosses still have the weapon by which they can frighten the Government into the action they want and hold the nation at their mercy.

SUPPOSE now, Mr. Truman having twice undergone this shameful experience, should go to Congress and to the people, in effect, saying:
"This is an intolerable situation.
I am a friend of organized labor but neither organized labor nor any other group should have the power to strangle this nation and coerce its Government. These bosses have that power and at frequent intervals threaten to use it.
Its mere possession menaces the economic welfare of the country.

act, and the scuttling was repeated
by Mr. Roosevelt in 1943. It having been demonstrated that more could
be gained by disregarding the law
than in any other way, the union
bosses naturally have taken that
way since.

FOIT a handful of men thus to prove
themselves stronger than the Government and above the law is a humiliating and degrading spectacle. It must fill every understanding American citizen with resentment and shame. Yet, the individual citizen is as helpless as the Government. The effect of a general
railroad strike would be so awful
that there seems no choice but capitulation. Literally, the nation
could be paralyzed. The food supply of the great cities would be cut off. Complete industrial and economic prostration would ensue.
Chaos would occur in a week. This is what faced Mr. Truman last week when he took over the roads.
For the time being he has averted
the strike but the union bosses
still have the weapon by which they can frighten the Government into
the action they want and hold the nation at their mercy.

SUPPOSE now, Mr. Truman having
twice undergone this shameful experience, should go to Congress and
to the people, in effect, saying:
"This is an intolerable situation.

but neither organized labor nor
any other group should have the power to strangle this nation and coerce its Government. These

quent intervals threaten to use it.

A SALUTE TO THE JEWISH STATE

In this Typical American Town we call upon Citizens of all Races and Creeds to join in observing one of the Great Events of all time—a Milestone in the History of Mankind—the Birth, on May 15th, of a new Democracy in the Near East. Below is the Text of a Declaration issued by the General Council of the World Zionist Organization which met in Tel Aviv April 12th, 1948.

The Jewish Declaration Of Independence

We have decided, relying on the authority of the Zionist movement and the support of the entire Jewish people, that upon termination of the mandatory regime there shall be an end of foreign rule in Palestine and that the governing body of the Jewish State shall come into being.

The state which the Jewish people will set up in its own country will guarantee justice, freedom and equality for all inhabitants, regardless of religion, race, sex or land of origin. It is our aim to make it a state in which the exiles of our people are gathered together and in which happiness and knowledge shall prevail and the vision of the prophets of Israel shall illumine our path.

At this hour when bloodshed and strife have been forced upon us we turn to the Arabs in the Jewish State and to our neighbors in adjacent territory with an appeal for brotherhood, co-operation and peace. We are a peaceful people, and we are here to build in peace. Let us then build our state together as equal citizens, with equal rights and obligations, with mutual trust and respect, each with a true understanding of the other's needs.

Our laws are dedicated to defending the liberty of our people. If further trials and battles are in store for us, we shall defend with all our might the achievement upon which we place our hope.

Right is on our side. With us are the hopes of the past generations of our people. With us is the conscience of the world. With us are deposited the testament of the millions of our martyred dead and the resolute will to live of the millions who have survived. The sanctity of our martyrs and heroes rests upon us and the God of our fathers will help us.

hydraulic plant on the Susquehanna river, serve more than 800,000 customers and a population of more than 2,000,000 people in a service area of 2,255 square miles. Philadelphia Electric Company pioneered the system of interconnection by which electric power can be interchanged with other companies. As a result, Philadelphia Electric and neighboring utilities are interconnected in a power pool of over four million kilowatts. This pool is tied in with a similar 'grid system' of six million kilowatts in New York State and New England, and with a third power pool of one and one-half million kilowatts in the Baltimore-Washington area. It is interesting to note that Philadelphia Electric Company supplies the largest railroad electrification load in the world.

Southwest station comes into operation to meet a consistently rising demand for electric power, for factories, commercial establishments, and homes throughout Philadelphia Electric's farflung area of operations.

Elect Mrs. S. Jacobson As President of Joint P. T. A.

NEW HOPE, May 17—At the final meeting for the season of New Hope-Solebury Parent-Teacher Association, held Thursday, Mrs. S. Jacobson was named president. She is the successor of Mrs. Charles Evans.

Other officers elected at the meeting, attended by about 75 persons, were as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Edward Williamson; secretary, Mrs. William Cosner, and treasurer, Maurice Chason.

Mrs. Evans announced the formation of what is to be known as the Rose C. Flood Memorial Student Association Higher Education Fund. This has been established for young people who desire to take post-graduate work in the high school, and from the fund will come outright contributions to persons who qualify. Mrs. Evans informed the group that $100 has been contributed to the fund, to which organizations in the community may contribute.

Merger of the New Hope and Solebury associations, it was announced, will be effected next year.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor
Tullytown Methodist Church

Almighty God, whose mercy is unfailing, we come to Thee with the longing no earthly storehouse can satisfy. Lift us out of the shadows into Thy light; out of our perplexities into Thy truth. We recall the word of He who spoke as never man spoke, saying, "Come unto me, and I will give you rest." Take away our unrest, and lead us into thy peace. Grant to us the faith which alone can overcome the world. In Jesus' name we ask, Amen.

Saturday they attended the wedding of Mrs. Bell's nephew, Malcolm Bishop, at Braddock. Mr. and Mrs. Cook returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Bell for an extended visit here. Mr. and Mrs. William Mack, West Circle, attended the funeral of Mr. Mack's aunt, Mrs. Mary Boyle, Roxborough, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Nichols, formerly of Santa Barbara, Cal., are visiting relatives in Bristol. Next week they will leave for Spokane, Wash., where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gratz have arrived back in Bristol after a week's stay in Bermuda.

HULMEVILLE

During the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everitt and daughters, of Philadelphia, visited Mr. Everitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Everitt, Middletown township.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter H. Canon, of Norwood, spent Saturday as guests of Miss Elma E. Haefliger.

Each member of the Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association met on Wednesday evening at a luncheon to take to the May picture of herself or himself, "snap-ped" in years gone by. These will be projected on a screen and others attending will have opportunity to guess identity.

An enjoyable evening was spent on Thursday at Hulmeville Park roller rink, when pupils of grades four, five and six of Hulmeville-Middletown school and their guests held a skating party.

NEW HOPE, May 17—At the final meeting for the season of New Hope-Solebury Parent-Teacher Association, held Thursday, Mrs. S. Jacobson was named president. She is the successor of Mrs. Charles Evans.

Other officers elected at the meeting, attended by about 75 persons, were as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Edward Williamson; secretary, Mrs. William Cosner; and treasurer, Maurice Chasson.

Mrs. Evans announced the formation of what is to be known as the Rose C. Flood Memorial Student Association Higher Education Fund. This has been established for young people who desire to take post-graduate work in the high school, and from the fund will come outright contributions to persons who qualify. Mrs. Evans informed the group that $100 has been contributed to the fund, to which organizations in the community may contribute.

Merger of the New Hope and Solebury associations, it was announced, will be effected next year.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor
Tullytown Methodist Church

Almighty God, whose mercy is unending, we come to Thee with the longing for Thy light. Lift us out of the shadows into Thy light; out of our perplexities into Thy truth. We recall the word of He who spoke as never man spoke, saying, "Come unto me, and I will give you rest." Take away our unrest, and lead us into Thy peace. Grant to us the faith which alone can overcome the world. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen.

Saturday they attended the wedding of Mrs. Bell's nephew, Malcolm Bishop, at Braddock. Mr. and Mrs. Cook returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Bell for an extended visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mack, West Circle, attended the funeral of Mr. Mack's aunt, Mrs. Mary Boyle, Roxborough, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Nichols, formerly of Santa Barbara, Cal., are visiting relatives in Bristol. Next week they will leave for Spokane, Wash., where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gratz have arrived back in Bristol after a week's stay in Bermuda.

HULMEVILLE

During the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everitt and daughters, of Philadelphia, visited Mr. Everitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Everitt, Middletown township.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter H. Canon, of Norwood, spent Saturday as guests of Miss Elma E. Haefner.

Each member of the Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association is asked to take to the May picture of herself or himself, "snap-ped" in years gone by. These will be projected on a screen and others attending will have opportunity to guess identity.

An enjoyable evening was spent on Thursday at Hulmeville Park roller rink, when pupils of grades four, five and six of Hulmeville-Middletown school and their guests held a skating party.

CHURCH LEAGUE RACE, IN INFANCY, CREATES INTEREST

St. Luke's opened its drive toward the championship of the Lower Bucks County Church Softball League with great success as they topped their first two encounters with surprising ease to jump into first place in the loop standings with a 2-0 record, last week. The Lutherans scored practically as well as they walloped St. James' in their opener, 20-10; then turned back a five-run uprising by a scrappy Bensalem team in the sixth inning to score a 9-5 decision over the visitors.

Calvary Baptist, another leading contender for the loop title again this year, also got off to the right foot when they outslugged Presbyterian, last year's champs, by a 12-8 score in its only encounter of the week. Bensalem, in its opening game, upset Hulmeville Methodist-Episcopal in a well-played game, 5-2, before they dropped their second contest to St. Luke's. St. James' came back to whip the Church of Our Saviour in another slugging engagement, 15-11, to pull up on even terms with one victory and one defeat after they had dropped their opener to St. Luke's. Bristol Methodist lost both its scheduled games to postponements due to lack of playing grounds and rain. First Baptist was not scheduled.

In winning its two games to take the loop lead, St. Luke's displayed a powerful offensive attack in rolling up 29 runs in those contests. St. Luke's got off to an early lead in the first inning against St. James', and continued to pour over runs 'til they had amassed a 20-3 lead. However, St. James' rallied to score seven runs in the last two innings, but fell short of catching up to the ultimate winners. Bensalem also rallied in the late innings of their game with St. Luke's, but, like St. James', their five-run rally proved insufficient, for by that time St. Luke's had amassed an 8-0 lead which was too much for Bensalem to overcome and they eventually lost, 9-5.

Getting some fine pitching from Ralph Bates, Bensalem opened its season with a 6-2 win over Hulmeville at Bensalem's Manumint school field. Bates held the opposition to nine hits in scoring the victory. Ossie Cliver, who pitched for Hulmeville, gave up four passes, which, coupled with a hit and a fielder's choice, enabled Bensalem to count three times in the sixth to sew up the game. Opening game ceremonies were held, featuring a brief message on sportsmanship and fair play by the Rev. R. Burns Broadhead, pastor of the Bensalem church.

In scoring their 12-8 win over Presbyterian, Calvary got off to a three-run lead in the opening stanza and were never headed, although Presbyterian came back with three in their first to tie the score. They rallied again in the late innings, but their effort to overcome a huge deficit of 11-4 was choked off by Calvary's pitcher, Dale Smith. A big six-run third inning sewed up the game for Calvary. Bowen hit a home run with no one on base for Presbyterian in the fourth. Barnhart, who took over the pitching chores in the fourth, hurled superbly in relief for Presbyterian.

In the other game of the past week, St. James' outslugged the Church of Our Saviour in a wild and rugged affair in which the score was tied three times. Both teams scored in clusters and the outcome was finally decided in the seventh when St. James' again came up with a four-run rally to break an 11-11 tie after Church-Saviour had scored a run in the sixth to knot the score. Jim MacCorkle's pinch-hit double and Bud Pearson's single drove over the winning run. But to put the game on ice, DeLong smashed a home run with two on a few moments later. In the fourth, Elmer tripled with the bases full and scored on an outfield error to clean up the game with a home run. To foreshadow events that were to follow in a knock-down and drag-out dog-eat-cat affair, Elmer and DeLong each had three hits to pace the winners' 16-hit attack.

INDUSTRIAL TEAMS OPEN SOFTBALL LEAGUE SEASON

Bristol's Industrial Softball League season got underway last week with four of the six competing plant teams in action. Manhattan Soap and Rohm & Haas Plexiglas were rained out Thursday, but will play off the postponed game on Monday, May 24, at Hunter-Wilson Field.

Tuesday's opener saw Hunter-Wilson squeezing a total of five runs out of four hits and a few errors, overcome a surprisingly good Fleetwings nine in a well played pitching duel. Wilson's Dick Smith gave a masterful hurling performance as he held the opposition to two hits (both by Hiebrum) while fanning eight over the route. Fleetwings' McKinney also deserved a better fate, but his fine four hit effort was wasted by several untimely early game errors which allowed the deciding runs. The game was won in the second inning on three unearned runs, although it was almost returned in kind by the Hunter-Wilson nine in the seventh when their miscues permitted two runs and allowed the tying run to reach second base.

Rohm & Haas Labs, last year's Greater Bristol Tournament Champions, continued their winning ways Wednesday as they pounded out a thumping 13-4 victory over the newly-organized Leedom aggregation. Racking up five runs in the first inning, the Rohm & Haas Experimenters added singletons in the second and fourth to make it strictly no contest, and completed the rout with six additional markers in the finale. Ralph Hart, R. & H. shortfielder, spearheaded the murderous attack with four extra base hits for five at bats, and also sparked ahead with several fine rally-stopping catches. Leedom, a new entry in the league, showed well in spots and with expected improvements may yet develop into a real contender.
